2 Background:

The background to this Agreement ("Agreement" or "the Agreement") is that the Parties have agreed that the Supplier shall provide materials (also referred to as "machinery" or "equipment" in this Agreement) and / or personnel to the Customer through renting / leasing in accordance with the terms of this Agreement. Renting and leasing refers to a commercial and legal relationship between the Supplier and the Customer in which the Supplier makes equipment and self-employed personnel or staff from the subcontractor available to the Customer for use in the framework of (or performing) work that belongs to the Customer's operations and management. "Assignment" refers to the provision of a leased/rented person and / or equipment to the Customer.

3 Scope of the assignment and Contract period:

The Supplier and the Customer (hereinafter the "Parties") agree that the Supplier shall arrange for the rental of personnel and / or equipment for the benefit of the Customer in accordance with the terms of this Agreement and the quotation made between the Parties. The Agreement runs in accordance with the terms of the offer drawn up between the Parties. The parties agree that pricing information shall apply in accordance with the quotation drawn up and approved between the parties. The Parties further agree that the start time and end time per day for staffing shall be calculated from the Supplier's office / place of business (which means that the staff concerned begins and ends their working day at the Supplier's office / place of work) unless otherwise agreed upon between the Parties.

For engagements exceeding one day, sleep time (night rest) of (at least) 11 hours between work shifts should be respected. The Parties further agree that the staff concerned shall be given a meal break after every five (5) working hours.

In the case of drama productions, compensation is paid for "OB" supplements, as well as overtime and other additional compensation (for example travel compensation) in accordance with current tariffs set by the trade union Scen & Film (Teaterförbundet).

5 Supplier's Responsibility:

The customer must use rented equipment in a suitable and professional manner. Other materials can be provided as agreed for daily use. The Supplier's liability shall otherwise be limited to the fact that it is only considered to provide personnel and equipment that the Customer uses within the framework of its operations. Customer shall be ultimately liable to its partners and customers in general, which is why the Supplier does not assume any responsibility beyond what is stated in this Agreement. The Supplier shall, however, ensure that it provides a serious and solid selection process and thereafter reports its selection process regarding the selection of personnel and equipment to the Customer to the extent that the Customer requests information regarding this.

6 Customer Responsibilities:

The parties agree that the Customer shall provide accommodation for the staff to the extent that the Assignment includes travel that is longer than 1.5 hours from the staff's home. To the extent that the Customer is unable to provide this, the Parties shall agree in writing on an acceptable handling of the personnel's accommodation.

7 Intellectual property rights:

The Agreement does not give either Party the right to the other party's trademark, copyright, patent, design or other intellectual property rights, unless this is expressly stated in the Agreement. To the extent that the Agreement gives the Party the right to use the other party's intellectual property right, this right of use ceases without prior notice when the Agreement terminates, regardless of the reason for the termination.

To the extent that provided personnel have produced special material during the Assignment, the right accrues to use such material to the Customer unless the Parties have agreed in writing on other terms. The Parties retain all rights to the intellectual property rights that the Parties individually owned at the time of the conclusion of the agreement. As far as the Supplier is aware, it does not, nor has it, infringed the intellectual property rights of third parties in any way that should be able to burden the Parties' contractual relationship. The Supplier shall also not participate in another's infringement of the Customer's intellectual property rights.

All material that the Supplier or its personnel have access to within the framework of this agreement is considered to be the Customer's property, except for machines that are rented to the Customer. This applies regardless of the type of material in question and regardless of whether the Customer has received the material from an outside party or whether the Customer has produced the material himself. All intellectual property rights that arise within the framework of this agreement accrue to the Customer if the Parties have not agreed otherwise in writing. Such material may include, but is not limited to: literary works, designs, inventions, scripts, drawings, video materials, digital solutions or technical innovation, and databases or lists of customers and clientes.

Violation of this clause entails a fine of SEK 100,000 for each individual violation.

8 Privacy:

The parties shall observe confidentiality regarding the content of the Agreement and the Assignment. Each Party undertakes, during the term of the agreement and thereafter, not without the written consent of the other Party to disclose to third parties' information (whether oral or written, electronic or otherwise), about the other Party's activities that may be considered business or professional secrets or otherwise use such information for any purpose other than the Parties' fulfillment of their obligations under the Agreement. Information that a Party has stated to be confidential shall always be considered a trade or professional secret.

A Party that receives information covered by this clause 8 shall ensure that such Party's employees, consultants, subcontractors and others who have access to such information sign a non-disclosure agreement the contents of which shall correspond to the non-disclosure agreement set forth in this Agreement.

Violation of this clause entails a fine of SEK 100,000 for each individual violation. Confidentiality applies during the contract period and twenty-four (24) months after the termination of the contract.

During the contractual period, the Parties shall provide each other with all information that the Party has access to and which the Party has the right to disclose - regardless of whether this information is documented or not - for fulfillment of the purpose of the Agreement. Information in this sense includes business-related information for the Supplier to be able to perform the services.

A Party's obligation to provide information may, however, be terminated by written notice if the other Party becomes insolvent or violates a provision of this Agreement and the breach of contract is of material importance.

9 Other:

The supplier has acquired and during the term of the agreement maintains the required liability insurance and interruption insurance. The Supplier shall also ensure that the personnel it provides have the necessary insurance for the Assignment. At the request of the Customer, the Supplier must present a copy of the applicable insurance policy and proof that the insurance premium has been paid in accordance with the insurance terms.

The Supplier reserves the right to refuse to perform services in places where we judge that the conditions for a good working environment are not met. This may include environments where there is an increased risk of personal injury, threats, robbery, theft or vandalism.

- (k) The Supplier has the right to continuously replace personnel within the framework of the Assignment.

The Customer understands that the Supplier shall not be considered to act in its capacity as Contractor or Subcontractor but handles its contractual role in its capacity as a party that provides personnel and equipment for the benefit of the Customer. The Customer undertakes any role as a subcontractor or similar vis-à-vis its partners or other party with whom the Customer enters into agreements within the framework of which he uses the personnel and the machines that the Supplier provides through this Agreement.

The Agreement with its annexes as well as the quotation constitutes the Parties' complete settlement of all matters affecting the Agreement. The failure of a Party to exercise any right under the Agreement or the failure to point out a certain circumstance attributable to the Agreement shall not mean that the Party has waived its right in such respect. If the terms of the Agreement change significantly or the Agreement as a result of a change in law or other circumstances beyond the control of the Parties could not be applied in accordance with the Parties' intentions, negotiations shall be initiated at the request of either Party to adapt the Agreement to the changed circumstances. Modifications to the Assignment, excluding substitution of the persons used by the Supplier for the performance of the Assignment, may only take place after written agreement between the Parties.

The parties shall in good faith negotiate all changes to the Assignment and any compensation for the extra costs that such changes may entail. Such additional remuneration shall be agreed between the Parties in writing and based on the remuneration received, in accordance with this Agreement, for the original Assignment. Additions or amendments to the agreement must be made in writing and approved by both Parties in order to be enforceable.

10 Limitation of liability:

The Parties agree that the Supplier's liability for breach of contract is, unless there is intent, limited to the lower of the total amount of the Supplier's compensation during the Assignment. The Parties agree that the Supplier is only liable for damage to the Customer's property caused by negligence or intent on the part of the Supplier. If a Party is prevented from fulfilling its obligations under the Agreement due to circumstance which Party does not control, such as lightning or lightning, fire, war, mobilization or large-scale military conscription, requisition, seizure, government regulations and riots, as well as errors or delays in services or products from subcontractors due to circumstances stated here, this shall constitute grounds for exemption which entails advance time for performance and exemption from possible fines, damages and other penalties. A Party who considers that an impediment exists under this paragraph shall immediately inform the other Party thereof in writing. The Parties shall consult on the measures to be taken in the light of the circumstances of the case.

13 Validity of the Agreement and early termination:
